Course Requirements:

Courses are selected with the guidance of the ICLS Director of Graduate Studies with a view toward the fields the student proposes to present at the M.Phil. qualifying examination as appropriate for the home Ph.D. program. Courses may be both in comparative topics, as offered by the various participating Ph.D. programs, and in the literature of a particular culture, if they are consistent with the student's program.

Points of Credit: 20-24 points (minimum six courses), of which 12 points must be taken for a letter grade (not R credit). Courses must include:

CPLS GR6100 (Was CPLS G4900 until Fall 2016): Introduction to Comparative Literature and Society –
This graduate course must be taken for a letter grade. Due to the unique curriculum at the Institute, exemptions from this course will not be granted.

Semester Taken: _____ Grade: _____

Two courses chosen in consultation with the ICLS Director of Graduate Studies to emphasize comparative topics. If these courses are not ICLS seminars (with the CPLS course designator), they must be approved by the DGS. One of these seminars must be taken for a letter grade.
